Genealogy of the Spamer Families of Baltimore.

Forward

This compilation is concerned primarily with the descendents of Conrad and Johanetta Magdalena (Heinzeberger) Spamer who came to the U.S.A. in 1832. It is convenient for me to refer to these families as the "Baltimore Spammers" even though I am aware that Spammers who do not belong to this family live and have lived in Baltimore. The Appendix contains a list of Spammers whose names appear in directories for the City of Baltimore for the years 1856 thru 1921 (Appendix pages A-26 and A-27). The names of Spammers in this list that we have not been able to place in our compilation are noted with an *.

During the mid 1970's several members of the 'Baltimore' Spamer families started to trace the relationship between their families. The information contained herein was supplied by many people. The principal contributors were: myself Adolph M. (Andy) Spamer (CS8.4.2), my sister Frances D. Spamer (CS8.4.1) - who gleaned church records, cemetery records and the Baltimore City Directories, Lilly Agatha Spamer (HCL10.5.2 & CS2.2.2.2) who supplied information about descendents of Heinrich Conrad Ludwig Spamer, Velmore Spamer (HCL8.1.1) who supplied information about the descendents of Ludwig's son Reuben, and Katharine S. Spamer (PHC9.1) who supplied some information about descendents of Peter Heinrich Christian (Henry) Spamer.

While this research was in progress, several Spammers in Baltimore received letters from a Mrs. Hannie Spaamer of Eindhoven, The Netherlands, requesting information about themselves. (The branch of Spammers to which Hannie's Husband is a member have used the double 'a' when spelling their name since the late 1700's.) In tracing her husband's family she discovered that a Carl O. Spamer from Baltimore, Maryland was a U. S. Consul at Amsterdam in 1924. After obtaining some information from the U. S. State Department and the National Archives in Washington, she wrote to the Netherlands consulate in Baltimore and obtained a list of 15 names and addresses from the Baltimore telephone directory. Thus the letters received by the Spammers in Baltimore.

During her research Hannie also became acquainted with another Spamer, A.P.G. (Ton) Spamer who lived in Deurne, The Netherlands - less than 20 miles from her home. Ton, a professor in a small college, had been collecting information about Spammers for many years. Eventually contact was made with a Karl-Heinz Spamer of the town of Schotten in Hesse, Germany and an Otto Spamer of Mannheim, Germany. Through these sources we learned about the early, or perhaps ancient would be a better word, Spamer families and the origin of the Spamer name.

Origin of the Name Spamer.

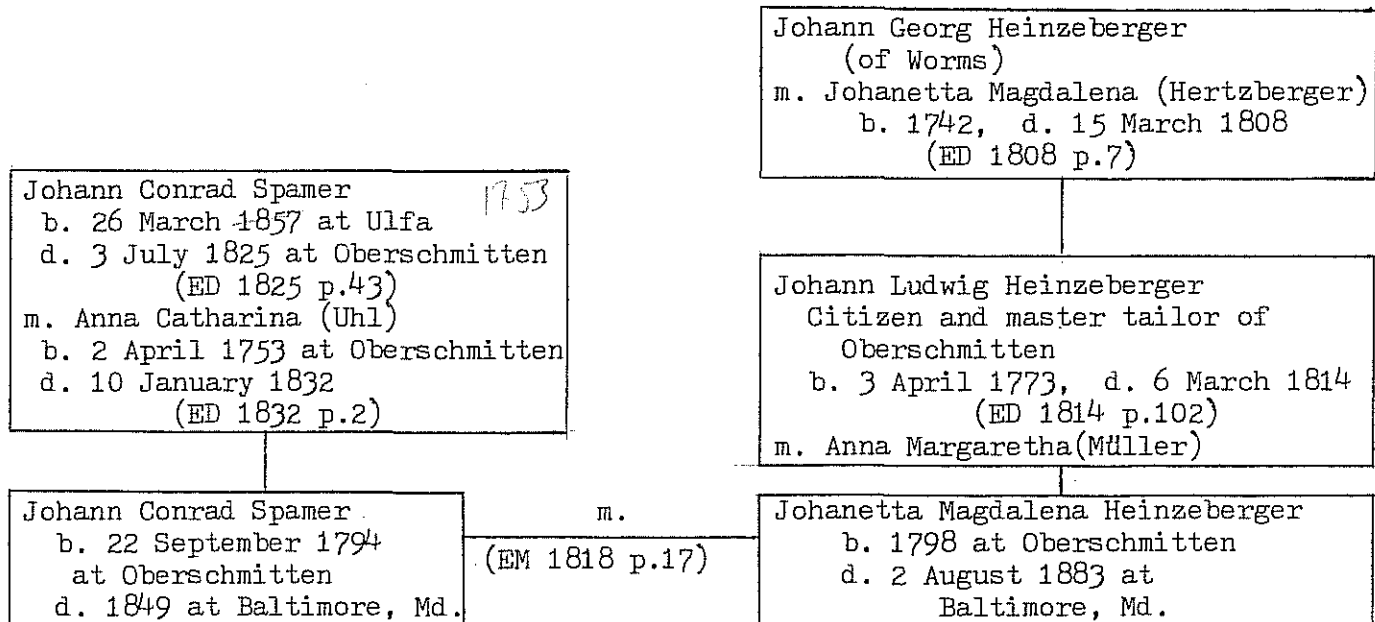

All Information so far available points to the fact that the name Spamer is derived from the name of the former countship of the Counts von Spanheim whose family died out in 1437. However no evidence has been found to prove the Spammers are descended from these Counts. The countship of Spanheim lay between the Nahe, Mosel and Rhine rivers (see map p. A-2). Spanheimer was probably used to designate a person who came from the Spanheim area. The name underwent a spelling transformation from Spanheimer - Spanemer - Spamer. The spelling Spamer seems to have originated in the Vogelsberg region of Hesse, specifically in the town of Schotten and the surrounding villages. So far the first appearance of the name in this region was found in a census of the town of Schotten for the year 1502 and the spelling Spanemer was used. To place this in a more familiar time frame, this date is just 10 years after the first voyage made by Columbus to the new world. In church records of the town of Schotten for the 1600's, the spellings Spanemer and Spamer were sometimes interchanged between a father and a son - the father or son using one spelling, the son or father the other. In the case of a clergyman Johann Heinrich Spamer (1643-1702) all three spellings were used in different references. In records of the Schotten church records of marriages and deaths go back only to the year 1629 and baptismal records only to 1647. The spelling Spamer appears in baptismal records for the first time in 1648 and in marriage records in 1661. During the last part of the 1600's the spelling Spanemer disappeared from the records. Even in more recent times the name has different spellings in records. For example, in records of the Baltimore Cemetery spellings Sparmer and Spammer appear in addition to Spamer. (see pp. A-41 & A-42)

Ancestors of the 'Baltimore' Spammers

The ancestors of the 'Baltimore Spammers came from the village of Oberschmitten located about 40 miles northeast of Frankfort on the Main in the Vogelsberg region of Hesse in West Germany. Oberschmitten is about 10 km southwest of the village of Schotten (maps pp. A-2 & A-3). Prior to 1806 this village was part of the territory of the landgrave of Hesse- Darmstadt. After 1806 Hesse-Darmstadt became the Grand Duchy of Hesse and its ruler took the title of Grand Duke of Hesse. Hesse-Darmstadt was a territory entirely separated politically from Hesse-Kassel. It was Friedrich II of Hesse-Kassel who supplied the Hessian mercenary troops to fight for England during the American Revolutionary War.

The ancestors of Conrad and Johanetta, proven from records of the church at Eichelsdorf, are shown in the following table. At the time of this writing earlier Spamer ancestors are thought to be connected to the Spammers shown in row D, columns 6 thru 12 in the chart on appendix page A-5.

(ED, EM, EB signify death, marriage, birth records of church at Eichelsdorf)

A copy of the marriage record of Conrad and Johanetta and copies of baptismal records of their children born at Oberschmitten are given in appendix pp. A-6 thru A-19. Spammers, grouped by families, who lived in and around Oberschmitten during the period 1808 thru 1875 are also given in appendix pp. A-21 thru A-25.

Bureau of Customs ship passenger lists show Conrad and Johanetta with three of their children arrived in the U.S. at the Port of Baltimore on 1 October 1832. Copies of these records, obtained from the National Archives in Washington, D. C. are given in appendix pp. A-28 thru A-30. Heinrich Conrad Ludwig did not come to the U. S. until 1836. The records of the church at Ulfa (Apndx p. A-20) show that Ludwig was godfather to the son of his Heinzeberger uncle born 21 February 1836.

In the Eichelsdorf church records Conrad is referred to as a master potter (Häfnermeister) and farmer. In Baltimore he and his family lived in the general area of Baltimore St. between Fallsway and Caroline St. It is assumed he died in January 1849 as his son Henry purchased Lot 189 Section C in Western Cemetery on 25 January 1849. (Apndx p. A-45) In October 1975 this lot contained two graves without headstones.

Since the cemetery kept no records of burials prior to 1874, it is probable that Conrad and Johanetta are in these two unmarked graves. Henry's daughter Sarah Elisabeth and her husband Andrew E. Holms are also buried in this lot.

Johanetta Magdalena Spamer, wife of Conrad, was born in 1798 at Oberschmitten, Hesse-Darmstadt. She ran a grocery store in Baltimore. City directories yielded the following addresses for her:

1870 Mrs. Henrietta Spamer, 26 Fawn St.

1874 Netta Spamer, 63 Albemarle St.

1882 Annetta Spamer, 272 N. Gay St. (also address of her son Henry)

Johanetta died 2 August 1883 and was buried at Western Cemetery. Page A-31 of the appendix contains a letter sent by Arthur L. Spamer to his father informing him of her death.

Children of Conrad and Johanetta.

1. The first child and son was Heinrich Conrad Ludwig. Page 4 contains a chart of his descendents and pages 5 thru 9 contain a write up giving more detail.

2. Christian Spamer the second child and son. Page 10 contains a chart of his descendents and a write up giving more details is given on pages 11 thru 15.

3. Catharine Spamer, the third child first daughter. The only information we have so far comes from information about her death shown on p. A-32 of appendix and the letter from C.A.E. to his father written 8 March 1897. From the death notice we learn Catharine married a Henry Engel and had a daughter who married a J. P. Pittroff. C.A.E.'s letter tells us she had two daughters Christine and Mary but we do not know which one married Pittroff.

4. The fourth child, a girl died in childhood.

5. Peter Heinrich Christian Spamer, fifth child third son. Page 16 contains a chart of his descendents and a write up giving more details is given on pages 17 thru 20.

6. George Wilhelm Spamer, the sixth child fourth son. The only information we found about him is his date of birth. He was not in the passenger list with his parents and siblings, nor does his name appear in the city directories or in church records of the church attended by other family members.

7. Carl, or Charles, the seventh child fifth son, born at Baltimore during the 1830's. He married a Margaret Spengler 15 March 1860. His name did not appear in city directories. From the letter of C.A.E. dated 25 July 1911 (apndx p. A-38) we know he had children. From this letter and the one dated 8 March 1897 we know he died between 1897 and 1911.

8. George Spamer the eighth child sixth son was born at Baltimore. From his Civil War military records supplied by the National Archives we learn that he was 5'-11" tall, dark complexioned, had black hair and hazel eyes and was born between June and October 1839. He enlisted three times. On his second enlistment papers his occupation was given as clerk and on his third enlistment papers it was salesman. The first enlistment was for six months, from 25 June 1863 to 29 January 1864 and he was a private in Co. G of the 10 Regiment Maryland Infantry. The second enlistment, where his age was given as 24 years, lasted from 1 June 1864 until 1 October 1864 and his rank was 2nd sergeant, Co. I, 11 Regiment Md. Inf. His last enlistment where his age is given as 25 years, was from 19 October 1864 to 15 June 1865 and his rank was fourth Sgt. Co. C, 11 Reg. Md. Inf. Baltimore City Directories indicate he became a mariner and eventually attained the rank of Captain, his addresses were:

1876, George Spamer, mariner, 33 N. Gay St.

1880, Capt. George Spamer, 130 N. Carrollton St.

He died 12 August 1896 and was buried at Loudon Park Cemetery. He died intestate and his affairs were settled by C. A. E. A review of the records in the Office of the Register of Wills for Baltimore City revealed nothing of value for our genealogical research. See letter p. A-31 of appendix.

Christian Spamer

Christian Spamer was born 7 September 1820 at Oberschmitten, Hess Darmstat (later called Grand Dutchy of Hess). From notes of Adolph Spamer (CS8), he came to USA at age 12 years with his parents. Passenger list of the Bureau of Customs shows his parents Conrad and Johanetta Spamer arrived at Baltimore, Maryland 1 October 1832. He died 20 March 1880 at Baltimore, was buried originally in a plot in Baltimore Cemetery consisting of Lots 283 and 297 Section I purchased by him in 1851. His body was removed to Loudon Park Cemetery 6 June 1895. He married Margaret Elisabeth Schroeder 13 August 1844 at the Evangelical Luthern church at Baltimore. She was born 9 May 1824, died 19 January 1904 and was buried at Loudon Park Cemetery in Lot 125N $\frac{1}{2}$ section O.

Woods Baltimore City directories list the addresses and occupations:

Christian Spamer, 1856-57, Engineer 82 Albemarl St.

" 1865-66, machinist, NW corner Caroline and Hampstead

Elisabeth Spamer, " , groceries, "

Christian Spamer, 1870, , 18 N. Caroline St.

" 1872 32 Jackson Square St.

Margaret Elisabeth died at 1721 N. Calvert St. Without premeditation alternate children of this couple were not given a middle name.

CS1 George Washington Spamer, b. 27 June 1845. Married Mary Gettys of Ireton (sic) Ohio at St.Louis, Missouri 25 May 1866. This is all we have found about him. However it may be assumed that he had no descendents living as of 4 October 1959 since they were not included in the distribution of the estate of Andrew Perry Spamer which became effective on that date.

CS2 William Spamer, b. 21 March 1847, d. 24 January 1912. He is buried in Baltimore Cemetery in the plot purchased by Christian.

City Directories gave the following:

William Spamer, 1871, Engineer, 42 Bank St.

1873, Engineer, 18 N. Caroline St.

1876, " , 220 E. Fayette St.

? m(1) Caroline ? , b. 1848, buried 9 December 1871

?CS2:1a Willard (or William ?) Spamer, buried 19 July 1870, age 11 months

These names are included at this point since the bodies are buried on the lot purchased by Christian, and also because they do not fit anywhere else in the family tree.

The grandmother of Marie Steen Strange (widow of Harwood Strange) and Katharine S. Spamer's grandmother were sisters. A letter from Katharine to Frances dated 24 June 1976 contained the following information supplied by Marie. Little George's father was named George but I do not remember his mother's name. When little George and his sister Cecelia were small children their parents both died. Henry's second wife Katharine Elisabeth raised them with her own children. Little George had two wives Emma Eck and Lottie Bowen. Lottie's brother, a bachelor lived with them. She had never heard of a William J. Spamer.

The George who married Lillie was called Big George. (KSS)

Mr C. A. Weber's mother and the wife of Edw. O.H. Spamer, Amelia, were sisters. A letter from Mr. Weber to Frances dated March 10, 1975 supplied the following information.

Mr. Weber and his wife had visited Loudon Park Cemetery the previous week and found a large tombstone marked 'Spamer' on lot 55 in Lilac section.

"Between the front of the stone and the road are buried:

Amelia H. Spamer, 1869 - 1954

Edward O. H. Spamer, 1867 - 1946

Harry C. Bowen, 1862 - no date. (Lottie B.'s brother)

In back of the large stone are interred:

Father-William J. Spamer 1864 - 1924

Mother-Frances Lee Spamer 1866 - 1948

Lottie B. Spamer 1881 - 1944

George P. Spamer 1883 - 1943

Emma C. Spamer 1886 - 1924"

Although up to this time we have not found anything about Wm. J. and Frances L., their burial in the same lot as Ed. O.H. and George P. implies a family connection.

Mr Weber also wrote in his letter "After winding up the business they had in the city Uncle Ed. and Aunt Amelia bought and operated the farm property on Liberty Road, less than $\frac{1}{4}$ mile down the hill from Wards Chapel Methodist Church. It was on this farm, that my brother Henry, our two younger cousins and I, spent many happy moments during the summer vacations from school."

During the contact Frances had with Mrs. Dorothy Duvall (PHC a.6), Dorothy mentioned an Uncle George who had a farm where they lived so Cecelia could be in fresh air. Apparently Cecelia suffered from a respiratory ailment.

The George referred to by Marie Stein is quite a puzzel. I wonder if her recollection is correct. Other than George P. (PHC 3) other George's we have found for that era are:

1. George William Spamer, b. 24 March 1831 at Oberschmitten, Hesse-Darmstadt. Son of Conrad and Johanetta Spamer. This is all we know about him.

2. George Spamer, b. 1839, d. 1896, at Baltimore, also the son of Conrad and Johanetta. He was buried at Loudon Park Cemetery. He never married. George served on the Union side during the Civil War between 1863-65. A private in Co.G-10 Md. Inf. in 1863. And as Sgt. in Co.I-11 Md. Inf. 1864-1865. I beleive the following information from Baltimore City directories to be about this George. 1876 George Spamer, mariner, 33N. Gay St.

1880 Capt. George Spamer, 130 N. Carrolton Ave.
This last address was that of Henry's family.

3. George Washington Spamer, b. 27 June 1845, son of Christian and Elisabeth Spamer, in 1866 he married Mary Gettys at St. Louis. This is all we know about him. If he had had any children, it is unlikely that Henry would have raised them when Christian's family would be more likely to assume this responsibility.

Another possibility would ^{be} children of children of Charles Spamer, another son of Conrad and Johanetta born in Baltimore between 1832 and 1840. Again it is unlikely that Henry would raise the children as Charles was still living in 1897.

The position of Cecelia and 'Little' George in the family tree probably could be established by searching death records in Baltimore newspapers for several years after 1883.

It should be noted that these films cover only the period from 1808 thru 1875.

A review of records in office of Register of Wills for Baltimore City showed that George died intestate and contained no information of value in genealogical research.

Letter from C.A.E. Spamer to his Father, Ludwig Spamer

Mch 8, 1897

Dear Pap:

In administering the estate of Uncle George, I desired to render my services for the benefit of the family and so distributed the commissions which the Court allowed me among his heirs, giving to Uncle Henry, because of his misfortune, the share which he would have been entitled to had he joined in the administration.

Uncle Charlie and Cousins Christine and Mary have accepted their proportions, but Cousin Andrew, on behalf of himself and sisters and brothers prefer to return to me the portion which I sent them amounting to $15.94.

To carry out my intention of free service it gives me pleasure to hand you herewith my check for the above amount $15.94 so returned to me which I will be glad to have you accept from

Your loving son,

Gus

Letter from Arthur Spamer to his Father, Ludwig Spamer

Baltimore, August 2, 1883

Dear Pap:

I learned through Cousin Andrew this morning that Grandmother died this morning about 3 o'clock.

Gus is now out making arrangements for the funeral which the Managers of the Infirmary desire to take place as soon as possible, and I suppose will probably be tomorrow.

I did not learn any more of the particulars of her death, but suppose she passed away quietly, her system having worn out with age.

Will let you know more fully when I hear.

As ever, your affectionate son,

Arthur

3:15 P. M

Gus has just informed me that they have completed arrangements for the funeral for tomorrow -Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Cousins Adolph, Andrew, Jim and George and myself will act as Pall Bearers. Her remains will be interred in the Western Cemetery.

Arthur

Copy of letter sent to Ludwig

March 6, 1890

Dear Pap,

We hoped that the Special Delivery which Arthur sent would reach you in time to enable you to get in by Wed. noon. Aunt Catherine passed into the other life on Monday; she had for a long time been feeble in mind and weak, but finally suffered with pneumonia.

Katie Engel took almost entire charge and care of her during the last year, and Aunt Catherine became very much attached to and depended upon her. Katie was the last name she called. We did not hear until Monday evening, and Ollie went right down Tuesday. They all hoped that you might get in, being the eldest brother. We told them we had sent word immediately.

We sent a beautiful floral offering - an anchor with a card "From Brother Louie" We knew you would feel and wish this. Gus, Arthur and Miriam were present at the services.

Finding that you did not get in, Mr. Pittroff asked Miriam to take your place in the carriage, so she went in with Uncle and Aunt Henry. Gus also accompanied the remains. Uncle George was not there as he was away and they could not get word to him.

Miriam and Gus went back to the house and saw members of the family for a short while. It seems that Katie Engel has been very faithful in attendance on Aunt Catherine and feels the loss deeply. Miriam likes Katie so much.

Thus it is that one by one we connect ourselves with the other life, leaving behind us the influence of our earth life.

It is a comfort to know that Aunt Catherine is now relieved from all earthly care and sorrow, and that now she can go strengthening and developing the gentle kind nature that she possessed.

With love and sympathy,

Millie

This is a copy of the death notice as it appeared in the newspaper. March 3, 1890

ENGEL - Entered into rest, after a long illness, on March 3, at 9:15 A. M.
CATHERINE ENGEL, aged sixty-seven years, one month and one day, relict of the late Henry Engel.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words,
"We must forever part."
Dearest loved one, we must lay thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace
But thy memory will be cherished
Till we see thy heavenly face.

The funeral will take place this (Wednesday) afternoon, at two o'clock from the residence of her son-in-law, J. P. Pittroff, No. 1057 North Gay Street.

Carl Ober Spamer, son of Christian Augustus Emmanuel Spamer (see Chart of Ludwig's Family), travelled extensively as a young man. He recorded his travels in notebooks, the whereabouts of which, unfortunately, is not known to us. In his letter of June 11, 1911 he asks for additional books and then describes the area (as it was in 1911) from which our branch of the Spamer Family emigrated to America.

His letter follows.

Dear Homefolks,

The following letter will be extracts and enlargements from Notebook 20 in regard to the visit to Obershmitten. As Book 20 is half full and I have no more of the same kind please send two (2) more books as soon as possible so they may all be of uniform size and appearance.

Leaving Frankfurt am Main as the most convenient centre we follow the main Ry. north as far as Friedburg. Here we change and run East into the Vogelsberg region getting down at Nidda where we change again to a slow oldfashioned Local, running along the side of the highroad. (A trip of 2 or 3 hours) By the time we had left Nidda we were out of the wide flat plain of the Frankfurt neighborhood and were winding in and out of the gently rolling hills, partly forested in fir and pine and partly under cultivation with wheat and rye now beginning to head. When Unterschmitten was reached we were all expectation. Five minutes later we drew up at a little box of a station in the neighborhood of a throbbing paper factory. This was Obershmitten. (400 inhabitants) While checking our grip at the station we inquired if any one by the name of Spamer lived in the village. No, they had never heard of the name. Our hearts sank. Next to the Post Office with the same question. No, there was no one living here by that name. They had heard of it but the family had all died out or moved away. A little more light but small hope of discovery. We then asked to be directed to the Burgermeister's home and a few minutes later we were walking down the Hauptstrasse of the village which was far different from the unsightly factory part of the town. We crossed over a goodsized brook and soon climbed the steps and knocked at the door of a comfortable and prosperous looking homestead. A stalwart looking farmer in his patched work-a-day clothes appeared around the corner, came up the steps, greeted us and bade us enter. Once more we stated our quest, and his first answer was "Ya, meine Mutter war eine geborene Spamer." He looked it. Save for the sandy color of the hair and the short bushy beard, he had the same broad forehead, projecting eyebrows, wide nostrils and highcheek bones as grandfather. By the time we had made known who we were, the mother appeared, a rather active old lady of sixty-seven, dressed in an exceedingly plain bodice and short skirt. Over her head she had a black kerchief which was knotted under the chin.

She soon told us in queer country german that she was the daughter of Christian Spamer, an only son of Leonhardt who was a brother to my own great grandfather, Conrad, who left Germnay for America in 1832. On the invitation of the Herr Burgermeister we accept his hospitality and lodge with him during our stay. After lunch we saunter over to Eichelsdorf a village just a mile farther up the valley. Here at the home of the Pfarrer we examine the church records of 1818 showing Conrad's marriage to Annette Heinzenberger. There were also records of the doings of other Spammers of the same family but the time being short and valuable we did not examine closely into them.

It seems that Conrad came into Oberschmitten from Schotten a village farther up in the mountains at the end of the present railway branch where other Spammers, descendants of an earlier generation still reside. Later research showed Conrad came from village of Ulfa, arms,

Leaving the Pfarrer, an interesting little old man with band of whiskers under his chin and his frau to putter about in their garden we climb the hill to the church where Conrad was married, and grandfather confirmed. The rear portion now containing the chancel dates back to the Reformation. The front is only 300 years. The two great fir trees which stand in front of the door nearly hide the little building which is scarcely 30 feet wide inclusive of the walls which are four feet thick. On the eastern side are two large windows which admit most of the light and also two small one above and below the gallery. The west side is taken up with a rough stairway leading to the gallery. The roof is slated as is also the octagonal bell tower rising at the rear of the newer larger portion. The interior is large enough to contain over three hundred people, more than one-third of which sit in the narrow uncomfortable seats in the L-shaped gallery. Below is a central aisle with 18 benches numbered the same on each side. The high pulpit, on a level with the gallery is at the right. Behind in the old part is the chancel with seats for the choirboys, and above, the loft for the pipe organ, a new acquisition with a fine tone. The ropes for ringing the two bells hang down in the centre of the church. The interior was decorated with paper wreathes and bunches of artificial flowers for Pfingsten. The two or three acres of land surrounding the church are taken up with graves, none of which are older than 1870. This is due to a practice of disentering after 30 or 40 years and putting the remains in a common grave.

On our return to Oberschmitten we notice a signboard pointing to Ulfa a village just over the hill where grandfather lived with his Uncle Heinzenberger for a few years before he came to America. Close by Herr Burgermeister Diehlmann's home runs the same Eichelsbach which turned the 3 wheels of the big mill which stood there in grandfather's youth and was torn down only in the last decade. Within 50 yards of the Diehlmann home and opposite the millsite is the plot of ground (now a garden) where the Spamer home stood till it was torn down in recent years. As the date 1804 is cut in the beam over the door of the Diehlmann dwelling it is without doubt that we slept and ate in a house that was quite familiar to Conrad and his children before he left for America in 1832. The Diehlmann homestead is a fine example of many in the neighborhood. The buildings are arranged about a nearly square court, the part facing the street being closed at night by wide gated.

The dwelling is on the left, with the main door facing the court and reached by a double flight of stone steps. Back of the house is an older building, half on the court side for the piggery and the other side toward the garden for the kitchen. At the rear of the court is a large barn, the upper portion for hay and grain and below, half for cattle and half for wagons. On the right side of the court by the barn is a commodious horsestable and next to it with side to the street a big wood shed with a room for farming implements. The Burgermeister had a fair collection of live stock. Besides a goodly flock of poultry, there was a sow with a dozen sucklings and two older relatives; two work mares, the one with a three-weeks old colt, and in the barn four cows, a heifer and a young calf all under the guardianship of a powerful ox, the pride of the neighborhood.

The farmers in the neighborhood use their cows for draught purposes, two to a cart, the traces being fastened to leatherbands over their foreheads instead of to a yoke over the neck. Out in the old millrace the ducks were swimming about, guzzling under water with their bills. Along the road a goosewoman followed her charges homeward with a long stick hastened to a wire hook.

On Sunday morning we attended service in the church at Eichelsdorf. All the men sat in the gallery and the women below. The old german songs dating several hundred years back, as old as the church itself were sung in the same almost painfully slow fashion as they have been sung since the songs were written. The old fashioned little Pfarrer in black gown and white collar and bib spoke, as a suitable subject for Pfingsten, on the value of having Christ's spirit within us. At the close, the "Vaterunser" was recited by the Pfarrer alone while the sexton slowly tolled one of the bells. The two main sections of the congregation came out about the same time and after them the Pfarrer leading his choir boys two by two.

Rahn

The whole morning took me back 80 to 100 years. Pfarrer, preached the Pfingsten sermon from this same pulpit. My own great-grandfather was one of the younger men that sat in the gallery and perhaps figited or went to sleep because of the sermon's length. Later it may have been my own grandfather that followed the pfarrer as he passed out between the thick church walls into the churchyard. Other places have changed, but here stands the same church with the same order of service; identical houses and surroundings, and people with the same customs as in the years gone by.

Sunday afternoon the Burgermeister with his two daughters and a friend take us for a drive through the forest to a neighboring village of Eichelsachsen to visit the only remaining relatives of Conrad's branch bearing the name Spamer. On the way over a hare scudded across our path and at another spot a young fawn sprang across an open field of grain from the cover a one dark green fir forest toward the one at the edge of which we were driving. Eichelsachsen we found to be just such another village like Oberschmitten, perhaps a little more backwoodsy. At a little dry-goods store we met Herr Conrad Ludwig Spamer a grandson of Hampeter (short for Johan Peter) who was a brother to my greatgrandfather Conrad. He is 66 years of age and not at present in the very best of health, having just returned from the hospital with his head still bound up, but he was in the best of spirits and more than glad to receive us and hear our story. His wife Frau Spamer, upon whom much of the work devolved on account of her husband's illness was a tall businesslike woman with a tired but pleasant face and much abbreviated woolen skirts. We also met their son Otto Spamer a tall young man of 35, (as yet unmarried) and two married daughters with their babies. The old gentleman had a yet stronger Spamer characteristics than the Burgermeister. He resembled Uncle Elmer very closely. The son Otto took more after his mother. Soon after our arrival all the Spamer relatives were sent for and the family circle listened with wide open eyes to a recital of the history of the Spamer kith and kin, in America as well as to our own personal world wide travels. A thunderstorm coming up held us over another enjoyable hour in their company before we had to take our leave and return to Oberschmitten, whence the next morning early we departed for Frankfurt and further travel. It was but a short visit from the outside world but it will make a lasting impression. The son Otto thinks of coming to America.

The next sheet of this letter contains the history of the two Spamer brothers who remained in Germany. If Bona sees fit she might make enough copies of this letter and the tree and send them to the various Spamer branches. I would also like to suggest that Father, Uncle Arthur and Uncle Elmer write letters of greeting (in German) with a short sketch of their personal family history and work to Conrad Ludwig Spamer who would immensely appreciate it. His address is: Eichelsachsen, Kreis Schotten, Oberhessen, Germany. An appreciative letter to the Mayor of Oberschmitten who helped us ferret out the history would also go far to make the bonds of relationship stronger. With love to all the American Spammers

Sincerely,

Carl Ober

Herr Conrad Ludwig Spamer
Eichelsachsen, Kreis Schotten
Oberhesson, Germany

My Dear Cousin Conrad Ludwig,

Your grandfather, Hampeter Spamer, and my grandfather, Conrad Spamer, were brothers. Your father, Leonhardt and my father, Heinrich Conrad Ludwig were first cousins which establishes the relationship of second cousins between us.

My father and grandfather emigrated to America nearly eighty years ago and intercourse between the Spamers in America and the Spamers in Germany was thereby interrupted and, so far as I know, not resumed. This has been a source of regret to me and I have always entertained the hope and wish to visit my father's birthplace and hunt up and reestablish friendly relations with the descendants of the brothers, Conrad, Hampeter, and Leonhardt. But the opportunity did not come to me during the course of a busy life in my profession with church work and many other outside matters occupying the spare moments. A way was to be provided for one of my immediate family to make the visit.

My youngest child, Carl Ober Spamer, animated by a desire for world wide travel, started in 1905 on a six years journey and, by the time he had reached Germany, I had furnished him with some information my father had given me before he died, of his native place and childhood days in Oberschmitten.

A few days ago, we had the great pleasure of reading a lengthy account of the visit which my son and his wife had recently made to Oberschmitten, Eichelsdorf and Eichelsachsen where he met you and your family, to Herr Burgomeister Diehlman and family and had worshipped in the church of his ancestors. The kind reception which you gave to them warmed my heart towards all of you.

I will give you a short sketch of my father's family and my own. My father's brothers and sister (no other children so far as I know) are

Christian

Heinrich

Charles

George

Catherine all of whom are dead, leaving children and grandchildren except George who never married.

An interesting circumstance is the fact that your name is the same as that of my father, viz: Conrad Ludwig, the name Heinrich, he rarely used and was generally called Ludwig, or in English, Louis. He married Julia Martin, originally of Mitau, Russia in 1842, she having come to America when a little child. Both are now deceased - father lived to be 83 years and mother 77. They had eleven children of whom I am the eldest :

1. Christian Augustus Emanuel, born September 25, 1843, an attorney at law.

The others were:

2. Olivia, a retired schoolteacher, living in Baltimore, Maryland
3. Amelia - deceased
4. Matilda - "
5. Edith who died very young - the others lived to adult age.
6. Adolph, an engineer, married and has one child, Rosalie. They live in Washington, District of Columbia.

7. Arthur Ludwig - Clerk of the United States Court for the District of Maryland, living in Baltimore. He is married and has two children, Elva and Morris, besides Alfred who died in babyhood.

8. Reuben O. - a farmer, a widower with two children, Lawrence and Marion. They live in the State of Connecticut.

9. Lillie, married Walter Watters, a farmer. They have five children :

Archer
Lawrence
Eugene
Alvin
Agatha

They live in Harford County, Maryland

10. Elmer - a farmer married and has three children : Jasper

Edith Evelyn

They live in Baltimore County, , Maryland

11. Miriam, married Joseph J. Robinson who is nearly blind. They have six children:

Olivia
Lewis
Harold Margary
Ralph
Miriam

They live in Baltimore City, Maryland

I married Abbie Ober Smith of Boston, Massachusetts in 1870. She died in 1886. I am a widower. We had five children Lois Mae

Daisy who died very young

Bona Pearl

Roy who died at $4\frac{1}{2}$ years of age and Carl Ober, my youngest, the world wide traveller, not yet 27 years old.

From this you will see that Uncle Conrad Ludwig's descendants are quite numerous - eleven children and grandchildren - thirty-six in all.

I served as a Union soldier in the Civil War between the States in 1864 and 1865 and was with General Grant in his great campaign in Virginia which finally ended the war. I have been active in church work being a member of the New Jerusalem Church and Secretary of the General Convention for the past 21 years besides holding other official positions in the church.

I have been practicing law since 1870 and our firm, Hinkley, Spamer and Hisky, is one of the oldest in Maryland.

My son writes me of the deep impression his visit to his grandfather's birthplace made upon him and especially when he contemplated the fact that he was worshipping in the identical church where my father was confirmed.

My own thoughts are happy ones that my youngest child had been welcomed among the German relatives of his grandfather and I sincerely hope that the way has been opened for continuing the delightful intercourse between us. I was especially pleased to see the photographs of yourself and family which my son sent.

I learn that you have not been feeling very well lately and I trust that you will soon recover and be returned to good health.

I, myself, have suffered a great deal from rheumatism, especially since my return from Japan a year ago and I am obliged to be very careful of my health.

As I do not write German, I am having this letter translated by Mr. Stiffers (?) who is a clerk at the German Consulate. I can read German print and manuscript, but cannot write or speak the language correctly.

Please give my affectionate regards to your wife, your son, Otto, and daughters, Emma and Eliza and also to all the other members of the family including all the children and grandchildren.

I shall be most happy to receive a letter from you whenever it may please you to write.

With cordial greetings and hearty wishes for your welfare and prosperity,

Affectionately yours,

Dear Mr. Spamer:

Yours of January 16th regarding Marriage record of G.W.Spamer in St.Louis index.

Index for births in StLouis are not possible because they are held confidential. Anyone can request a document, provided you give the birth date. State of Missouri did not require Vital Statistics reports until 1910. However, StLouis city started the practice sooner.

Deaths are indexed and open to the public at the City Health Bureau. Publication would be a prohibitive endeavor. Deaths are recorded since 1850 altho the ordinance was not fully observed in the early days. St.Louis Genealogical Society has copied and alphabetized the 1850 Mortality Schedule, containing many of the 1848-49 cholera deaths not shown in city files.

Your requested Marriage record reads as follows:

U.S.Stamp:
5 ct : This certifies that George W. Spamer of Baltimore, Maryland and Mary C. Gettys of Ireton, Ohio were married by me
May 28th 1866 in St.Louis, Missouri
A.C.George, Minister
M.E.Church

Filed & recorded July 23, 1866
Julius Conrad, Recorder

St.Louis Genealogical Society is receptive to a donation of $2.00 for a search of a surname. Thank you for your interest and we trust the information will be helpful in your searching.

Yours sincerely,
