GRAND CANYON AND LOWER COLORADO RIVER REGIONS

Anonymous (continued)

1970	8.972	Smokey the Bear Sutra. Wind Bell (Zen Center, San Francisco), 9(2) (Summer): 28-30. (Notation on p. 30: "may be reproduced free forever".) [Begins (p. 28): "Once in the Jurassic, about 150 million years ago, / the Great Sun Buddha in this corner of the Infinite / Void gave a great Discourse to all the assembled elements / and energies: to the standing beings, the walking beings, the flying beings, and the sitting beings—even grasses, / to the number of thirteen billion, each one born from a seed, were assembled there: a Discourse concerning / Enlightenment on the planet Earth. [¶] 'In some future time, there will be a continent called / America. It will have great centers of power called / such as Pyramid Lake, Walden Pond, Mt. Rainier, Big Sur, / Everglades, and so forth; and powerful nerves and channels / such as Columbia River, Mississippi River, and Grand Canyon. / The human race in that era will get into troubles all over its head, and practically wreck everything in spite of its own strong intelligent Buddha-nature. [¶] 'The twisting strata of the great mountains and the pulsings / of great volcanoes are my love burning deep in the earth. / My obstinate compassion is schist and basalt and / granite, to be mountains, to bring down the rain. In that / future American Era I shall enter a new form: to cure / the world of loveless knowledge that seeks with blind hunger; / and mindless rage eating food that will not fill it.' [¶] And he showed himself in his true form of / SMOKEY THE BEAR."]

The 1930 printing comprises three stanzas that do not specifically mention these men. The Rotarian printing comprises six stanzas—three additional stanzas preceding those that were printed in 1930, and with edits to the final three stanzas as compared to the 1930 printing. The newer (first three) stanzas likewise do not mention the men by name, but the third stanza in this now-longer version does recall "The mightiest canyon of the earth / he conquered [ . . . ] [he now] taking no part / In all the explorations of the West." The Rotarian version does not include any part of the prose introductory notes that appeared in the 1930 printing.]

("From The Residue of Dreams: Selected Poems of Jao Tsung-i, forthcoming from Cornell East Asia Series" [see Jao, 2016, ITEM NO. 8.872].) 選自《夢餘: 饒宗頤詩文選譯》, 康奈爾大學東亞研究系列, 即將出版. Sinology News / 稷風 [jì fēng] [國學院通訊《稷風》 (Guó xué yuàn tōng xùn "jì fēng") (National Academy Newsletter "Ji Feng")] (香港浸會大學, 饒宗頤國學院 [xiānggǎng jìn huì dà xué, ráozōngyí guó xué yuàn] [Hong Kong Baptist University, Jao Tsung-i State College]), 1(1) (Summer): 19-21. [See p. 20: "On the Grand Canyon. 大峽谷. For Jao the awesome scale of the Grand Canyon seems to place even the mythical mountain of Kunlun in the shade. The forces of nature behind it place in perspective even the great luminaries of human civilization. 作者在此描繪出大峽谷的壯麗景象, 甚至傳說中的崑崙山也比之不及。在自然造化面前, 就算是人類聖賢也會感佩不已。" Page presents a quatrain, illustrated with a painting of Grand Canyon, "饒宗頤 大峽谷寫生 (1990年)" [Ráozōngyí dà

<sup>45</sup> Nicholas Morrow Williams (see Jao, ITEM NOS. 8.870, 8.872) explained in his "Prefatory Note" to The Residue of Dreams (p. xiii) that he uses the Pinyin system of Chinese transliteration, except for Jao's name: "Jao achieved an international reputation in the 1960s, when the Wade-Giles system was still widely used, so his English name follows the Wade-Giles romanization: Jao Tsung-i instead of Pinyin Rao Zongyi." Note as well that the English name of Hong Kong Baptist University's Academy of Sinology (see Jao, ITEM NO. 8.870) honors "Jao Tsung-i", as do numerous other institutions named for him.
